

Introducing ... Karen Perrett

Mrs Karen Perrett is one of Chanel's new Instrumental Music Program tutors, teaching Flute.

about Karen ...

I started learning to play flute and piccolo at the age of eight. It obviously has had a lasting effect on me as I have now been teaching those instruments for thirty years. Teaching is a passion for me and is something that I have always enjoyed.

My fondest memories include performing in concert bands, orchestras, ensembles as well as "Diamantina Bush Band", which some of you may remember. By attending music workshops, band tours and eisteddfods, I was able to make many life long friends.

In my lessons I would like to cultivate in my students

- * Confidence in expressing themselves through their music
- * Improvement in technical proficiency
- * A love of learning different styles of music
- * The absolute satisfaction of performing for others or playing for your own enjoyment

Music is a powerful life giving force, the value of which is best epitomised by Albus Dumbledore's famous quote from the 'Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone', "Ah, music! A magic far beyond what we do here."
