STAR OF THE SEA PARISH MASS

From The Principal

Thank you to all members of our College staff and our Student Leaders for making Catholic Education Week 2019 a special celebration for each one of us. In particular, I must mention the very special Mass and Awards Ceremony in Rockhampton during which Mrs Kath Hore was recognised for her significant contribution, over many years, to the flourishing of the Chanel College community.

Another highlight of the week was the presence of so many grandparents on Friday morning for our inaugural Grandparents Day. A Grandparents Day is a special way for us to celebrate the connection between generations. Grandparents add a special dimension to the lives of young people as they are the 'keepers' of the family story. Through the telling of the story, children can obtain a sense of where they, themselves, have come from – they can experience a deep sense of connectedness to the many generations that make up their extended families. Grandparents also come with a vast knowledge of life and can offer a wisdom that is borne of experience to young people.

It was wonderful to see the pride with which our students introduced their grandparents to their Pastoral Care classes and their subject classes. There were many comments over morning tea about just how much education – and Chanel – has changed since they (our grandparents) were at school!

It was also wonderful to see many parents attend our Subject Selection Information Evenings last week and we look forward to the conversations that will happen at our Parent Teacher Interview Evening tomorrow. We value our partnership with parents and carers and evenings such as these provide excellent opportunities for us to have fruitful conversations about how best to support students as they strive to achieve success in each one of their subjects.

Sincerely,

Dr Susan Bunkum PhD

Feedback from Year 8 Retreat

The Year 8 students certainly had an enjoyable, challenging and rewarding Middle Years Student Leader Retreat last week at The Capricorn Caves and some of their comments included – ‘I enjoyed the retreat as it gave me the opportunity to challenge myself and improve myself as an individual by being inspired by others.’ ‘I enjoyed talking to more people and making more friends while making good memories.’ ‘Retreat helped me to be a better leader by challenging me, I was able to find qualities I never knew I had which allowed me to improve my people and leadership skills.’ ‘I learnt how the little things can help and it all helps and take a part.’ ‘Retreat helped me to realise that people are there to help me when I’m in need.’

Aristotle's famous for the quote "the whole is greater than the sum of its parts". Put simply, this means, that work produced in teams is better than that was produced by individuals. Throughout life our students will need to work with and team up with others. This could be through sport, on a school assignment or in employment. At some stage they will need to collaborate with others.

To help celebrate Catholic Education Week at Chanel, also affectionately known as 'Spirit Week', our Student Representative Council (SRC) members organised a range of fun lunchtime activities for our students to enjoy. These activities required a lot of organisation and teamwork prior to the day. Without doubt, 'Together, Everyone Achieves More' (TEAM). Congratulations to the winners of each event and a huge thank you to our Student Representative Council for promoting and organising these enjoyable events.

Recently many of our students and staff participated in the annual Relay for Life on the Chanel oval. 46 teams relayed for 18 hours from 3 pm on Saturday, until 9 am on Sunday morning. Relaying for 18 hours continuously is not achieved easily without teams working together in the spirit of the relay. As each team relayed, teamwork was evident. Effective teamwork is a life skill that will be used continuously throughout one's life. Learning to develop this skill through participation and involvement in College activities will give our students a lifetime of benefits. Thank you to staff and students for your fundraising efforts and for giving up your weekend for a good cause. I hope you have all now caught up on your sleep and you are back into your studies.

A big congratulations to Mrs Kath Hore (School Support Officer) on receiving the Spirit of Catholic Education Award for Catholic Education in our Diocese of Rockhampton. Mrs Hore is an inspiration to us all. She is a humble servant leader and a living treasure of Chanel. I am sure that you will all agree that she is a great role model who demonstrates daily how to effectively work in a team. Throughout the many Year 11 Leadership Retreats that we have worked on together, she has prepared countless resources and ensured the program is adequately prepared prior to and during the Retreat. It was a pleasure to watch Mrs Hore receive this prestigious award at the ceremony in Rockhampton on Wednesday, following the official launch of Catholic Education week. Congratulations, Mrs Hore!

This week we have our Parent Teacher Interviews. I strongly encouraged all of our parents and carers to take this opportunity to attend. Valuable information and insights on your child's progress is always shared at this event. It is vital that teachers and parents team up to support our students. Together Everyone Achieves More!

Blessings,

Mrs Alison Wales

On Tuesday evening, we will have our second round of Parent/Teacher interviews. These are an opportunity to discuss the learning of your students, including their strengths and growth areas. These interviews form an important part of the academic development of your child. Having your child attend with you is a great way to ensure everyone is involved in the plans for development.

From this evening a reflection can be made on the study habits that have been developed. Are they yet to be established? Do they need to be revisited? Students should have a study area set up at home to encourage reflection of the learnings at school. Establishing a regular study habit will contribute to the improvement in academic outcomes. There are many websites available to help students establish excellent study habits. The following information, particularly, is great advice based on research.

Here are five good study habits that can help you boost your learning:

1. Manage your time wisely so that you stay on top of your assignments and exams.
2. Practice mindfulness and meditation to reduce stress.
3. Ditch your smartphone at night to make sure you get a good night's sleep.
4. Eliminate distractions while studying.
5. Study in widely varying contexts.

CHANEL COLLEGE

Premiering on 1 August, new SBS drama The Hunting explores the experiences of teenagers as they traverse the complexities of relationships, identity and sexuality via technology.

Following the lives of four young Australians, their teachers and families in the time leading up to, the time of revelation and the aftermath of a nude teen photo scandal, the timely series aims to promote discussion and awareness to enable positive experiences for young people online.

Young people are increasingly exploring their sexuality online, with 26 per cent of teens having sent a nude or sexual image or video of themselves to someone else.

Further research from the eSafety Commissioner (eSafety) reveals one in 10 Australians have experienced image-based abuse (IBA). This includes intimate, nude or sexual images that are sent without the consent of those featured. Intimate images may also include images or videos that have been altered (i.e. photo shopped), or that depict a person without attire of religious or cultural significance which they would normally wear in public.

For every victim, the experience is different, but often it causes anger, depression, anxiety and feelings of humiliation, and affects their families, social relationships, and overall wellbeing.

Experts suggest conversations about online safety should start in the home, as soon as we hand over devices to children, and be reinforced through their educational journey.

In partnership with eSafety, SBS has created resources aligned to themes explored in the series. Available through SBS's education portal, SBS Learn, the materials are designed to provide families, carers, teachers and the school community with conversation starters that help address image sharing and cyberbullying with young people, and promote safe and positive experiences online.

The Hunting will air on SBS and SBS On Demand from 1 August, and the SBS Learn resources are available now via the SBS Learn portal. For tips, tools and advice to manage online safety issues visit the eSafety website.

DEPRESSED DADS AND THEIR KIDS (AND PARTNERS) NEED SUPPORT

These days, we are better at recognising and treating post-natal depression in mothers. But depressed dads raise the risk of children developing behavioural problems. SUPPORT FOR DEPRESSED DADS WILL HELP MUMS (AND KIDS)

These days, we are better at recognising and treating post-natal depression in mothers. But we are only just starting to talk about dads getting post-natal depression. It is true that men are less likely than women to become depressed after the birth of a baby, but it still happens too often. It can affect your relationship, and even your child: babies whose dads are depressed are more likely to develop behavioural problems, according to some research.

But there are really positive, proactive things you can do.

It is never too late to learn new ways to tackle depression, and new approaches to parenting. Doing a free Triple P – Positive Parenting Program can help everyone be happier. Find out more and support each other: www.triplep-parenting.net

First Friday 26 April. Chanel Day at the College. Mass 9 a.m. followed by Chanelathon, Interschool sports etc.

Second Saturday evening 27 April. Ex-students Dinner.

Third Sunday, 28 April. St. Peter Chanel Feast Day, the Celebration for everyone. Mass in the library Courtyard at 11.15 a.m. followed by Open Day, Historical Display, Family picnics, games etc.

A school photograph with a difference!

Chanel College students lined up for a group photograph on Wednesday morning...but not for your average school snapshot. In fact, the only ones to appreciate their efforts were high flying birds or passengers in aircraft flying over the school. The students and teachers posed for the photograph to celebrate the school's 25th jubilee. A colour photograph of the day will be published in the school magazine later this year. Sunshine Coast Lightning Player Visit

On Friday of Week 1, we were lucky enough to have Cara Koenen from the Sunshine Coast Lightning Suncorp Super Netball Team come to the College. Cara is a member of the Lightning team which has gone back-to-back Premiers in 2017 and 2018. She took some of our PE classes through netball skills and drills sessions and spoke with them about life as an elite netball player, balancing sport/training and her studies and adversities she has faced getting to where she is now in her netball journey. This was a fantastic opportunity for the College to host someone of Cara's sporting stature at the College and for the students to improve their netballing skills and to get an insight into the life of a Suncorp Super Netball player. Thank you to Cara for sharing her time and expertise on the day and to RDK Sports Management for providing this opportunity for us.
