STAR OF THE SEA PARISH MASS

From the Principal - Dr Susan Bunkum PhD

Chanel College students have been very fortunate to have artists, Roger & Chrissi Saunders, and Hannah Bauer, visit our College for two weeks.

Roger has perfected a special technique of indigenous dot painting that gives images depth when viewed with special 3-D glasses.

Together, Roger and Chrissi started the program, 'Art From The Heart', for school children. This program allows all students to contribute to the production of unique and beautiful pieces of dot art work, created using sticks. As Chrissi explained, the students are able to express themselves "through the eye of a stick."

Many of our students have already been a part of the program in their primary schools and are delighted to be able to, once again, contribute to the production of brilliant artwork that will soon be on display throughout the College.

Science

Mr David Fisser

YEAR 7 SCIENCE

The Year 7's have been learning about safety rules in the Science Laboratories and how to use scientific equipment safely to assist them in conducting exciting experiments. Since the beginning of this term the Year 7s have learned how to light their Bunsen Burners safely and heat liquids in beakers and test tubes.

Food and Nutrition

CHANEL COLLEGE

Justice Respect Compassion

Food & Nutrition is an exciting new subject. Which includes the study of food in the context of food science, nutrition and food technologies.

In Unit 1, students explore sectors of the food system and the nutrients that make up our food. They explore fundamentals of food science through practical investigation of the nutritional and scientific properties of vitamins, minerals and protein in foods.

The first experiment investigated the effects of physical manipulation, temperature and chemicals on Vitamin C in frozen, dehydrated, fresh and canned peas. Various conclusions were drawn about the bioavailability of these products and an interesting observation about the food miles of these products (France, Germany and New Zealand).

Humanities & the Social Sciences (HASS) Happenings

Mrs Paula Staunton

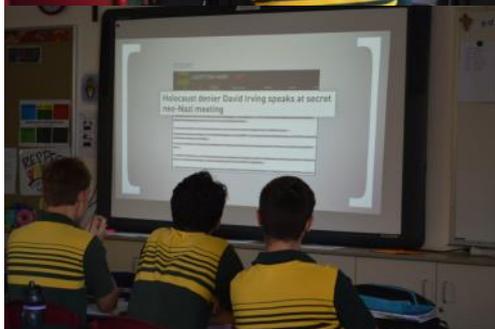

•This day in history....

The bombing of Darwin, on the 19 February 1942, during World War II was a critical moment in Australia's history. Japanese forces, which had been advancing southwards for two months, attacked the Australian mainland. This was the first time that the Australian mainland had been attacked by a foreign power. According to the Australian Government Anzac Centenary website, there were more than 80 raids over Northern Australia in the following 9 months.

•In the Classroom

Year 10 History students are presently learning about the causes, events and ramifications of World War II in Europe and Australia's contribution in the European and North African spheres of the war. Recently, an ABC News story lamented the fact that many Australian's seem largely unaware of the importance of the bombing of Darwin during WWII, pointing to the lack of emphasis on this topic in school curriculum across Australia. At Chanel, the significance of the Japanese attack on Australian sovereign territory has been included in the Year 10 curricula since the introduction of the Australian Curriculum. As part of their course, Year 10 History students will study the impacts of World War II on Australia. This includes the bombing of Darwin and the shifting political alliances which occurred as a consequence of the war in the Pacific gaining momentum.

•Out and about

To support and develop students' historical understandings, an excursion for interested Year 10 students to the Rockhampton Heritage Village and the CQ Military and Artifacts Museum is planned for March. Further information can be obtained from Year 10 Modern History Teachers and more specifically, Mrs Van Krimpen, who is coordinating this excursion.
