FROM THE PRINCIPAL

On Thursday 6 June, while at a meeting at Emmaus College in Rockhampton, I was able to attend their whole campus assembly. Given that 6 June was Queensland Day (and, perhaps coincidentally, the day after Queensland won the first game in the State of Origin series), a focus of the assembly was a celebration of this great state that we call "home".

On the drive back to Gladstone, I decided that I should do a little research into Queensland Day, so that I have a better understanding of this aspect of our history. Significantly, this year marked the 160th 'birthday' of the state of Queensland. While, the move towards the separation of Queensland from New South Wales began in 1851, it was not until 6 June 1859, when Queen Victoria signed the Letters Patent giving her approval, that Queensland became an independent colony. Perhaps, it was the suggestion that the new colony be known as Queensland, rather than the suggested Cooksland (in honour of Captain James Cook), that influenced her decision! Queen Victoria granted the Queensland Coat of Arms, the oldest State Arms in Australia, to the Colony of Queensland in 1893.

Those of us who have answered the trivia questions on the Bruce Highway as we drive to Brisbane will know that our state floral emblem is the Cooktown Orchid, our bird emblem is the cassowary, and our animal emblem is the koala. It probably goes without saying that our state colour is maroon, and that Queensland is 'The Sunshine State'. Equally as significant, but perhaps less well known, is Queensland's motto, Audax at Fidelis, which translates to Bold but Faithful, and the fact that the Coat of Arms, granted by Queen Victoria in 1893, is the oldest State Coat of Arms in Australia.

For students at Chanel College, the 7 June has an added significance, as it is the Feast Day of St Marcellin Champagnat (1789 – 1840), the founder of the Marist Brothers. The son of peasant farmers, Marcellin was ordained to the priesthood in July 1816. He dreamt of transforming the lives and situations of young people, especially those who were very poor, by offering them an education that would allow them to transcend their circumstances. Marcellin's vision lives on at Chanel College because our founding traditions are both Marist and Mercy. As a College, today we join with students in Marcellin House in thanking God for the life and work of St Marcellin Champagnat, and for the gift of an education at Chanel College, that focuses on the development of the whole person.

Sincerely,

Dr Susan Bunkum PhD

SOS Mass and Youth Gathering – this Sunday 9 June

All staff, students and their families are warmly invited to join us for our Term 2 Star of the Sea Mass. This is a great opportunity to join with our fellow parishioners in prayer. Our senior students also organise the Youth Gathering that follows on from our SOS Mass. Students from all year levels are invited to join in the supper and activities in the Parish Hall, Herbert Street after the Chanel SOS Mass. Mass begins at 6.00 pm and the Youth Gathering follows from 7.00 to 8.00 pm.

Week of Prayer for Christian Unity (2-9 June)

Every year across the world Christians gather to pray for growth in unity. The theme for 2019 Week of Prayer for Christian Unity is "Justice, and only justice, you shall pursue" (Deut 16:18-20). In a world where nations continue to be divided and in conflict, and our planet is fragile, this theme is timely. As we pray together, we are reminded that our baptismal call as members of the Body of Christ is to both pursue and embody justice. Our unity in Christ empowers us to take part in the wider struggle for justice and to promote the dignity of all life that we acknowledge and respect as God's creation.

Year 11 Retreat

Well done and "thank you" to all staff and students who participated in the Year 11 Servant Leadership Retreats this week. Students are joining enthusiastically in all activities and coming up with some great ideas about Servant Leadership at Chanel in 2020. Thank you to all parents who volunteered their time to assist with the catering and to those who provided enough goodies to keep everyone happy for the four days.

Australian Catholics magazine

A copy of this free magazine is given to every family (sent home with youngest child) four times a year. There are always very interesting and informative articles in each issue. The latest edition focuses on "Mental Health and Wellness" which is a very topical and important issue. These were handed out last Friday afternoon so please check to make sure you have received yours and I encourage you to have a read through it and discuss with your children.

World Environment Day – 5 June

World Environment Day reminds us about our responsibility to protect our planet. The following is a beautiful prayer that we can pray not only on World Environment Day, but throughout the year.

"God of all creation, as we look at the environment, your divine power and immense love are ever present. We thank you for the beautiful creation and abundant resources you have provided. We ask for your help in revealing how we can better care for your creation. Help us to use only the resources we need, never being selfish by taking more than necessary. Please give us the opportunity to appropriately share our wealth with those who are less fortunate instead of disposing of our surplus. Help us to remember that the environment is home to all life and that we must take up the responsibility to ensure all life is respected. We thank you for this day and ask for your blessing on this journey." (Catholic Health Association)

Justice Respect Compassion

This week I have had the privilege of working with our 2020 student leaders. Their enthusiasm for learning about leadership has been outstanding. Our model for leadership at Chanel College is Servant Leadership. These students have demonstrated that they are prepared to lead by example and for the common good.

Chanel students are privileged to have many opportunities to lead. Our Middle Years Student Leadership Program provides a starting point for students to explore leadership in high school and positions, such as being Pastoral Care Representatives, helps to further develop student leadership skills.

Leadership opportunities at Chanel help our students to build self confidence and develop their skills in areas such as public speaking, organisation and communication. I wish our Year 11 students the very best with their leadership applications and I look forward to working with them through the next year.

CHANEL COLLEGE

Justice Respect Compassion

This week I am at the EduTech Conference in Sydney. This is an Educational Technology conference. Our pedagogical framework does require us to develop 21st century skills for our students to be digital global citizens. At Chanel College, we do this with a reflective process. Part of that reflection involves attending these conferences in order to ensure as a College that we stay connected to current developments in education. This will allow us to continue to provide our students in a regional setting with a quality education.

At this conference Sir Ken Robinson stated that the aim of education is to enable students to understand the world around them, and the talent within them, so they can become fulfilled individuals and active, compassionate citizens. This resonated with me and it is a vision I hold as I reflect on my role as a leader of curriculum for the students of Chanel College.

The key message I am receiving at this conference is the importance of creativity in education. This is not to be confused with the Arts curriculum. It is in every classroom, in every subject! It is the responsibility of every teacher to provide opportunities for creativity for every child in his/her classroom. So, I will come back to Chanel College with a better understanding the importance of creativity in the curriculum and it's significance in education.

College History

CHANEL COLLEGE

Justice Respect Compassion

The Year that was 1984..

The College was known as "Gladstone Catholic High School" and it's Principal was Br Roger Burke fms.

This year saw plenty of 'first' such as:

- the school first entered in The Canterbury Shield for rugby league with its team, the 'First XIII', which set up the tradition of football pride within the College;
- we first celebration of Founders Day, was formally known as "Celebration Day";
- history was in the making when the school yearbook was produced for the first time by a creative group of students. This yearly publication is still produced each year to reflect the journey through the school year;
- the first Honour Board is compiled and displayed;
- construction of Stage 1 of the Sylvester Wing began;
- And, audiences were thrilled to watch the school production of ("Twelve Angry Men");

Chanel College is built on so much amazing history, and I look forward to sharing a little with you each week.

Stella Maris Feast Day

Last Friday we celebrated Stella Maris Feast Day. On this occasion we remember our strong links with our Patron Saint, Mary Star of the Sea. The day started with a Liturgy led by our Delegates and Middle School Leaders, which was followed by a celebration of great food, including a sausage sizzle on green bread, yummy lollies, and biscuits and the cutting of the Stella Maris Cake. We then had the Inter-Stella Cup Volleyball Competition which was won by Stella Maris 5 Pastoral Care Group. Thank you to all students and parents who brought in food and drinks; there was plenty to go around.

A great day had by all!
