FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Our Year 12 students who successfully completed the QCS Test last week, were part of 'history in the making' as the 2019 test was the last ever! Beginning in 1992, the annual QCS Test has been used for twenty-seven years to calculate Overall Positions (OPs) and Field Positions (FPs) which have been used to determine the eligibility of Year 12 students from across Queensland for entry to tertiary courses. The significance of the occasion was felt by each of our Year 12 students as they sat the four papers of this QCS Test. We congratulate them on their accomplishment and are very proud of each one of them! Thank you to the staff and students who prepared the Year 12 breakfast before the tests each morning - a wonderful example of servant leadership in action!

This week, students in Years 7 – 10 and Year 12 sat their exams, and next week will be the Year 11 ATAR Assessment Intensive week. While students are inevitably stressed as they prepare for, and sit their exams and complete oral assessment tasks, there is also a sense that holidays are not too far away! There is much anticipation and checking of snow and ski reports on the part of those students and staff members who are preparing to 'hit' the ski slopes of New Zealand when those on our Ski Trip leave on Monday 23 September.

One of the indicators that lets us know that the end of year is fast approaching is the advertising of dates for our Awards ceremonies in October. This year, we are proud to add a new celebration to our traditional program of celebrations with the first ever Instrumental Music Program Twilight Showcase on Thursday 17 October. The vision and work of Mrs Berry and Mrs Slow in developing, implementing and promoting this program has seen it grow and thrive in the space of a few short months. Please join us on this special evening of celebration of ISM at Chanel College and enjoy the performances by our ISM students who are looking forward to performing for our community.

Planning for 2020 is well underway. We would appreciate it if information regarding any student who is not intending to return to Chanel in 2020 could be provided in writing to Ms Dyer at the College Office as soon as possible.

Yours sincerely,

Dr Susan Bunkum Phd

International Day of Democracy 15 September

2019 Theme: Participation

"This year's International Day of Democracy is an opportunity to recall that democracy is about people. Democracy is a fundamental building block for peace, sustainable development and human rights. Democracy provides the natural environment for the protection and effective realization of human rights.

True democracy is a two-way street, built on a constant dialogue between civil society and the political class. This dialogue must have real influence on political decisions. This is why political participation, civic space and social dialogue make up the very foundations of good governance. Today, civic space is shrinking worldwide at an alarming rate. Civil society activists are finding it increasingly difficult to operate. Human rights defenders and parliamentarians are under attack. Women remain vastly under-represented. Journalists face interference, and in some cases violence." Adapted from and for More information visit <https://www.un.org/en/events/democracyday/>

We make time to ask RUOK?TM

Thursday 12 September was R U OK?Day – our national day of action dedicated to reminding everyone to ask, “Are you Ok?” Regular, meaningful conversations can make a difference, particularly to those struggling with life, and we are reminded to engage in these conversations every day. You don’t have to be an expert to ask how someone is going, just a good listener.

R U OK?Day is an initiative of national suicide prevention charity R U OK? whose mission is to inspire and empower everyone to meaningfully connect with people around them and support anyone struggling with life. This year in the build-up to R U OK?Day we’re encouraging everyone to Trust the Signs, Trust your Gut and Ask R U OK? We want everyone to feel confident they know the signs of what someone might be saying or doing and what might be going on in their life when they’re struggling. Any time you notice these signs, we want you to trust your gut and start an R U OK? conversation. The guide provided gives some helpful hints to support a conversation. You can learn more about the signs and how to ask R U OK? at www.ruok.org.au

How to Ask:

1. Ask R U OK?

- Pick the right time and place to start the conversation.
- Mention specific things that have made you concerned for them, like “You seem less chatty than usual. How are you going?”

2. Listen

- Take what they say seriously and don’t interrupt or rush the conversation.
- Encourage them to explain: “How are you feeling about that” or “How long have you felt that way?”
- Show that you’re listening by repeating back what you’ve heard (in your own words) and ask if you’ve understood them properly.

3. Encourage action

- Help them think of next steps they could take to help them manage their situation.
- If they’ve been down for more than 2 weeks, encourage them to see a health professional.
- Be positive about the role of professionals in getting through tough times.

4. Check in

- Schedule a reminder to call them in a couple of weeks. If they’re really struggling, follow up with them sooner.
- Stay in touch and be there for them. Genuine care and concern can make a real difference.

Year 9 Religion

This term Year 9 students have been studying prophets in RE. They have researched and written a feature article on a chosen prophet. Some of the prophets included Micah (which includes chapters from the Bible where the College motto can be found), Amos and Jeremiah. To conclude the term and consolidate what was learnt, Ms Ryan's class was challenged to think how teenagers can be prophets. The class has completed a debate on "Can teenagers be Prophets in 2019?." The class has also had a visit from Samara Thompson, the Vinnies Youth Engagement Officer, to get the students to think about how action can be taken at a local level for teenagers to be prophets. Samara visited over 2 lessons and challenged the students to think out of the box about being a prophet and about the groups in society who may need their help.
